ADVENTIST CHURCH

Rufus B. McDannel, Pastor
Sabbath School Lesson 10 for March 7, 1970.
Subject: Christian Maturity
Keytext: Be ye therefore perfect even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect. Matt 5:48.

"The child of God should clearly understand what it means to have a mature Christian experience, God made man perfect, but sin produced imperfection which disqualified the sinner for salvation. His only hope is Christ. By faith in the atonement he is clothed in Christ's righteousness and in that sense he is justified without condemnation before God. There is no instance in the New Testament of a personal claim to complete perfection, as this less makes clear.

Key Words and Expressions 1. Perfect. The adjective thus translated means full grown, mature, complete. The verb form means to finish, to complete, to perfect. 2. Lay Aside Every Weight. In Hebrews 12: 1,2, pictures the Christian in terms of an athlete where the contestant is seen removing such clothing, which might be a handicap in the forth coming contest, this probably is Paul's meaning here. 3. Captain. This word in Heb. 2:10 is from the same Greek word as "author" in chapter 12:2. 4. Conversation The Greek Word Conversation does not mean conversation in the sense of speech" but would include speech as one aspect of behaviour or conduct.

Lesson Outline — Sun - the Ideal of Perfection. Matt. 5:48. Mon - The Pursuit of Excellence Phil 3:12,15. Tues - The Path to Perfection, 2 Tim. 3:16,17. Wed — Christ Our Example Heb. 12:1,2. Thurs - Marks of Maturity, Jas. 3:2, 1:4; Col.3: 14. Fr - The Fulness of Christ Eph. 4:13-15.

In the Sermon on the Mount Christ presents a seemingly impossible ideal: Be ye therefore perfect. But notice this statement in its context. Christ depicts what it means to be like the Father. Love your enemies, Bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you. That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven. God is to be our model. We are to follow Him in all His perfections. This doesn't mean we can reach complete equality with God. A child can be perfect for its age, a plant can be perfect for its stage of maturation; but both grow, and graduate perfection marks the developing life - Christ's object lesson pg. 65,66. At every stage of development our life may be perfect; yet if God's purpose for us is fulfilled, there will be continual advancement. Sanctification is the word of a life time. One has said. Think it through — Until what time may we expect the process of character perfection to go forward? Read 1 John 3:2,3.

Why So Many Questions

Every question asked in the 1970 Census has a national purpose. Government programs for welfare, education, housing, veterans, senior citizens, minorities -- and many others -- depend on accurate counts of our people and how they live. Schools, businesses, our States, cities, and citizen groups all use census figures to plan their work and to measure our country's problems and progress.

'Without Onion' To Be Shown Sat., March 21

The determination of a football player and his High School steady to rise above today's new morality trends highlights the film story for "Without Onion," feature length color motion picture to be shown at Hebron Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m., March 21 (Saturday). The film's appearance in this area is sponsored by Hebron Baptist Men in connection with the Appomattox Assoc. Youth Night.

Pete and Sonya, typical American High School students had been following the crowd in their patterns of conduct until a businessman in their community showed them how relative Christian Faith can be in the life of a modern teenager.

Intrigued by their new discovery, Pete and Sonya determined to relate their faith to others on campus. As a part of their effort, Pete turned in his best year in football and the two of them made significant contributions to the Honor Club Seminar, their High School's top prestige group.

John Washbrook, known to millions as the child star on the "My Friend Flicka" television series, plays the lead in the film. The series, produced over ten years ago, still appears on many TV stations. Washbrook is supported by professional actors Beverly Washburn, Tony Mockus and David Mink.

Vepco Files For Rate Increase

The Virginia Electric and Power Company Monday filed testimony with the State Corporation Commission in support of its application for an increase in electric rates filed on November 25, 1969. The proposed new rates, which would increase revenues about 10% were suspended by the Commission and a public hearing on the request has been set for May 4, 1970.

This is Vepco's first request for a rate increase in two years and would amount to an increase of about 4% per day for the average residential customer using an average of about 1,000 kilowatt hours per month.

Abbitt Endorsed By Solons

Richmond — Virginia legislators from the 4th Congressional District, with the exception of the city of Chesapeake, have endorsed the re-election bid of Watkins M. Abbitt, state Democratic party chairman, for the 10th term in Congress.

Chesapeake has a candidate of its own for the Democratic nomination — Commonwealth Atty. Robert M. Axson, Jr.

The legislative group expressed appreciation to Abbitt for what it called his "22 years of unselfish service to the people of the 4th District" and to others in the district in addition to the endorsement.

Joining in the endorsement were Sen. Claude W. Anderson of Martinsville, L. Ray Ashworth of Smithfield, R. Maclin Smith of Lunenburg, C. Hardaway Robb of Hopewell, Matt Anderson of Goochland, Arthur H. Richardson of Dinwiddie, Frederick T. Gray of Chesterfield, Delegate Joby Smith of Petersburg, Delegate R. H. Pettus of Keysville, and J. Samuel Glasscock of Pittsylvania.

Also Sen. Edward E. Willey of Hampton and Sens. Garland W. Gray of Sussex, James M. Davis of Amherst, William V. Rawlings of Capron, Jr. Harry Michael Jr. of Charlottesville, J. D. Hagood of Clover and Lloyd C. Bird of Chesterfield.

Others who live outside the district represent constituencies within the district.

Gov. Holton Launches Easter Seal Campaign

"Faith, Hope, and Therapy" that is the slogan for the 1970 Easter Seal Campaign which was officially launched in Richmond on February 23 when Governor Linwood Holton was presented the first sheet of seals by Ricky Steven Mitchell, Waynesboro, this year's State Easter Seal Child.

Ricky, a 10-year old victim of cerebral palsy which affects his legs, admiringly gave the governor an Honorary Camp Easter Seal Certificate as a token of gratitude for his efforts on behalf of crippled children and adults. Miss Gail Doyle, Ricky's newly-crowned Jr. Miss from Martinsville, and Major Gen. Carr F. Shannon, Jr., President of the University of Virginia and Easter Seal State Campaign Chairman participated in the Governor's presentation ceremony.

Following the meeting with Governor Holton, Ricky, Miss Doyle and Dr. Shannon were guests of honor to members of the General Assembly and attended a kick-off luncheon with approximately 25 guests in attendance.

Tremendous advances have been made in the care and rehabilitation of the crippled by Easter Seals during its past 25 years of organized effort in Virginia. This year, the growing needs for expanded services in speech and for children and adults with all types of handicapping conditions present the greatest challenge of all times as together programs designed to bring opportunities and hope together.

The annual appeal of the Virginia Easter Seal Society for crippled children and adults will continue through March 29, Easter Sunday.

Census Day

Census Day is April 1, and the Times - Virginian is attempting to bring the 1970 Decennial Census to the attention of the American people since each household will play a major role. The Census needs the willing cooperation and full support of each individual.

Census questionnaires will be delivered by mail the latter part of March. This year, for the first time, 60% of all households will be asked to return their forms by mail which will make the 1970 Census more convenient and more private than any previous Census. Questionnaires from the remaining households, those in less densely populated areas, will be picked up by Census enumerators.

President Proclaims Red Cross Month

Following is the text of President Nixon's Proclamation designating March Red Cross Month which was released to press by White House February 26, 1970:

By the President of the United States of America — A proclamation in a democracy like the United States of America, we learn early that each one of us has a responsibility not only to himself, but to his fellow citizens, and to the nation as a whole. As the world around us grows smaller, our sense of responsibility to mankind has extended until it includes the peoples of the entire earth.

Nowhere is the compassionate feeling for mankind, and his welfare, better exemplified than in the Mission of the Red Cross. The humanitarian work of the Red Cross is recognized by all nations. For eight-nine years American Red Cross had served this nation and its people unselfishly, while constantly striving to do more.

Now, therefore, I, Richard Nixon, President of the United States of America and honorary chairman of the American National Red Cross, do hereby designate March 1970, as Red Cross Month, a time when the organization will seek for your active support. I urge every American to do his utmost to secure the strength of the Red Cross by serving as a volunteer if possible and by contributing to his full ability.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-fifty day of February, in the year of our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Seventy, and of the Independence of the United States of America the One Hundred and Ninety-fourth.

RICHARD NIXON

More Babies Than Society Can Place

On a cold, damp morning — January 16 to be exact — state police found the body of a male infant abandoned in a paper bag in a wooded area near Richmond. The child had died of exposure.

The story was carried by the afternoon papers and while it disturbed many readers, it had a particularly hard impact on the people at the Children's Home Society of Virginia.

"The little boy was abandoned just after we had been forced to turn away several desperate young expectant mothers who had come to us for help," said Earl W. Childress Jr., executive director of the statewide adoption agency.

"One mother was only 13 years old," he added, "and we couldn't help wondering whether the abandoned baby was one we might have helped if our budget had only allowed for its support."

In an all-out effort to prevent the same tragic story from occuring again, the Children's Home Society is currently conducting a fund raising campaign in many parts of this area. The Society receives no state or federal support and is totally dependent upon private contributions for its work. It is now operating under a $28,000 deficit.

Local sponsor for the Children's Home Society in Appomattox County is Mr. John P. Taylor of Appomattox.

The Children's Home Society has been in the business of finding good adoptive parents for Virginia's homeless children since 1899.

"Contrary to popular belief," Childress said, "there are now many more babies in Virginia needing adoption than we can possibly find families for."

Vepco To Spend $364.5 Million

The board of directors of the Virginia Electric and Power Company has announced an estimated 1970 construction budget of $364,500,000, or one million dollars for every day of the year. This is the highest construction budget in Vepco's history.

John M. McGurn, Vepco president, pointed out that the 1970 construction budget is an increase of $109,000,000 over what was spent in 1969. He also said that the company expects to spend $1.9 billion for its five-year construction program, 1970 - 1974.

The 1970 construction budget includes some $28,900,000 to be spent for the initial nuclear fuel cores for the Surry Power Station, Virginia's first commercial nuclear station.

The budget also includes $303,500,000 for generating facilities and $127,600,000 for transmission, distribution and other electric facilities. Gas additions will amount to $4,500,000.

To assist in financing the 1970 construction program, Vepco plans include a proposed sale of 3,000,000 shares of common stock on March 10, and $85,000,000 of First Mortgage Bonds on April 21. The nature, time and amount of additional financing to be needed in the fall of 1970 will depend on conditions then prevailing.

Ford Outsells Other Makes

Richmond, Va. -- For the first time in four years, Ford outsold all other makes of passenger cars and trucks in Virginia in the first four months of the 1970 model year, beating its nearest competitor by 1,588 cars and 503 trucks in the Oct.-Jan. period.

New car and truck registration figures released by the Automotive Trade Association of Virginia show Ford passenger cars and trucks lead for each of the four months. Total new-car registrations in Virginia for the October through January period show 13,788 Ford Division cars and 4,650 Ford trucks beating its nearest competitor by 13 and 12 per cent, respectively.

"We are delighted that our dealers in Virginia have regained the lead which we last held in the same period in the 1966 model year," Jack S. Straub, Richmond district sales manager for Ford Division, said. "We know we have the cars and trucks to suit every customer's needs and we intend to hold that leadership."

G.S. Cookies

When you think of cookies, do you think of Girl Scouts? Most people do! But the Girl Scouts have come a long way from the sterotype of camping and cookies. They still sell cookies, and they still go camping because these are very important parts of the Girl Scout Program. But, more and more they are reaching out to help people in all social and economic groups; they are taking on community responsibilities and services; and they even participate in space, marine, and art conferences all across the country. This is Girl Scoating in 1970 -- preparing the girls today for their roles as women of tomorrow!

Miss Smith's 4-H

The 4-H Club met on March 6, 1970 in Miss Smith's class at Appomattox Primary School. The president, Robert Dyess, brought the meeting to order. We gave speeches about our Most Exciting Experience. The one who did the best speech gets a prize. Five of them got prizes. The meeting lasted 45 minutes.
